2. Travel

By plane

Venice Marco Polo Airport

The Marco Polo airport is located in Tessera, approximately 20 kilometers from the centre of Venice. From the airport you can reach the centre of Venice by bus or water bus (vaporetto). To arrive in Venice via bus, you can take bus n. 5 (ACTV) or ATVO. To take the bus you must exit from the ground floor of the airport and you will find the bus stop directly in front of the exit doors. Get off at Piazzale Roma, the main bus station. The trip from the airport to Venice takes approximately a half-hour. Instead, with bus n.15 (ACTV) it is possible to arrive in the centre of Mestre. For more information, please consult the ACTV website: www.actv.it/en and www.atvo.it/index.php?lingua=en.

To arrive in Venice via water bus (vaporetto) the only available way is with Alilaguna. If you prefer to arrive in Venice via water bus, turn left at the exit of the airport. This trip will take approximately one hour. For more information and a detailed map, see: www.venicelink.com, www.alilaguna.it/en and Venice airport “Marco Polo” www.veniceairport.it/en.

Canova Airport (Treviso)

Canova airport in Treviso is approximately 30 kilometers from Venice. You can arrive to Venice by bus or by train. To take the bus you must exit from the ground floor and the bus stop will be in front of you. You can purchase tickets on board, at the ATVO ticket stand, or at the automatic ticket machines that are located in the arrivals/baggage lounge. For further information, visit: www.atvo.it. Otherwise, you can take the ACTT number 6 bus to the Treviso train station and you can catch a train to Venice from there. The trip to the main Venice train station, Venezia Santa Lucia, takes approximately one hour. For more information and the train timetables, visit: www.actt.it, www.trenitalia.com/tcom-en and Treviso airport “Antonio Canova” www.trevisoairport.it/en/.

By Train

The two train stations of Venice are “Venezia-Mestre” (in the mainland) and “Venezia Santa Lucia” (in the historical city centre). For further information and timetables: www.trenitalia.com/tcom-en and www.italotreno.it.
